Chapter 1: Introduction

The Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act, also known as the CARES Act, is a $2 trillion economic stimulus bill passed by the 116th U.S. Congress and signed into law by President Donald Trump in March 2020 to respond to the impact of the coronavirus pandemic in the United States.

Through the CARES Act, $250 million from the Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) was made available to the Florida Housing Finance Corporation (FHFC) and has been allocated to the following areas:

- $120 million to provide rental assistance for residents in FHFC-assisted developments;
- $120 million to provide rent, mortgage, and other assistance administered by the State Housing Initiatives Partnership (SHIP) jurisdictions; and
- $2 million to provide operations support for special needs developments.

This manual is specifically designed to provide guidance for the $120 million of FHFC-CRF funding administered by SHIP jurisdictions. This manual is not intended to provide guidance for other CRF-funded programs.

The State of Florida has allocated $120 million to be administered through the SHIP infrastructure. This funding is not SHIP funding but the FHFC-CRF program adopts some, but not all, of the processes and restrictions of the SHIP program for ease of administration.

Funding Allocations

In the first round of allocations, FHFC disbursed $75 million in funds. The allocations for the first round of funding are between $175,000 (county minimum) and $7.5 million (county maximum). Allocations are based at the county level on reemployment data and then disbursed to eligible cities based on population figures. The remaining $45 million is anticipated to be disbursed no later than October 15, 2020 and will be based on updated reemployment figures as well as local government performance in spending the first allocation.

All local governments that are eligible to receive SHIP funding are also eligible to receive FHFC-CRF funds. Each local government must execute a subrecipient agreement with FHFC to receive the funds. This agreement details requirements of the funding as well as eligible activities. Any existing city/county interlocal agreements are expected to govern funds for those communities.

Expenditure Deadline

All FHFC-CRF funds must be expended no later than December 30, 2020. Any eligible activities that occur between March 1, 2020 and December 30, 2020 are CRF eligible.

Any funds not expended by December 30, 2020 must be returned to FHFC and in turn to the U.S. Treasury Department.

CRF is Not SHIP

In some ways, the FHFC-CRF program is like SHIP, although it is not the same as SHIP. Some SHIP program requirements such as the maximum income set-aside (120%) apply to the FHFC-CRF program. Others, such as the SHIP homeownership and construction set-asides, do not apply to the CRF program. There is no requirement to set aside 30% of funds for very low or low-income applicants, although in the current state of emergency, many local SHIP offices will be serving high percentages of these income levels.

Reporting and Monitoring

FHFC has set up a reporting mechanism like the SHIP annual reporting portal for final reports, which will be due by February 15, 2021. In addition, each local government is required to submit a monthly report of activities beginning September 25, 2020, as well as quarterly reports.

Local governments must track payments to each individual household who receives assistance under the program. Staff may deposit CRF funds into the local SHIP account but track everything separately with project coding in the accounting system.

CRF funds will be subject to SHIP-like compliance monitoring as any fiscal year funding would be with the CRF funds falling within the 2020-2021 fiscal year.

No Environmental Reviews are Required for the CRF Program

Since the Florida Housing Finance Corporation announced its Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) Program using the SHIP infrastructure, the Florida Housing Coalition has received many questions regarding what environmental reviews, if any, may be required for proper administration of funds. On Wednesday, September 8, 2020, the U.S. Treasury Department (the federal agency responsible for overseeing CRF funds under the CARES Act) released an updated Coronavirus Relief Fund Frequently Asked Questions document that addresses these questions.

The Treasury Department confirmed that the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) does not apply to administration of the Coronavirus Relief Fund. Local governments will not need to conduct an environmental review under NEPA before providing CRF assistance. If CRF-assisted projects are also funded by other federal financial assistance programs, those projects may still be subject to NEPA review depending on the funding source. This new guidance does not preclude the application of other environmental laws that may apply to CRF-funded projects.

This manual is specific to the FHFC-CRF funding administered by SHIP jurisdictions. The manual cannot be relied upon for other CRF-funded programs.

Chapter 2: CRF Program Policies

This is an example of program policies and can be edited or modified to meet your specific program policies for the administration of the services provided by the local government.

Funding

The State of Florida has been awarded funds pursuant to section 601(d) of the Social Security Act, as amended by section 5001 of the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act, Pub. L. No. 116-136, div. A, Title V (Mar. 27, 2020) and a portion of the CARES Act Funds (designated the “Coronavirus Relief Funds or CRF funds”) was distributed by Florida Housing Finance to be administered by the City/County.

The City/County, also referred to as the Subrecipient, must maintain these files for five years after the end of the applicable fiscal year, except that, if any litigation, claim, or audit is commenced with respect to the transactions documented by such files before the end of the aforementioned five-year period and extends beyond the expiration of the five-year period, these files must be retained until all litigation, claims, or audit findings involving the files have been resolved. Terms of funding are outlined in a Subrecipient Agreement attached as Exhibit 1.

Foreclosure and Eviction Prevention

Funds will be used for foreclosure and eviction prevention due to a hardship caused by COVID-19 as follows:

1. Rent payments not to exceed 10 months, from March 1, 2020 to December 30, 2020. Assistance can include rental arrears, late fees and charges, and rent payments to prevent eviction.
2. Housing re-entry assistance, such as security deposits, utility deposits, and temporary storage of household furnishings.
3. Mortgage payments not to exceed 10 months, from March 1, 2020 to December 30, 2020. Payment can include mortgage arrears, late fees, mortgage payments excluding taxes (except in the event of delinquent homeowners), HOA, condo fees, and other related fees to prevent foreclosure.
4. Utility payments that include water, electricity, gas, internet, and cable, including late payments and late fees and charges to prevent a discontinuation of essential services.

Emergency Repairs

CRF funds may be used for emergency repairs. Emergency repairs must have become necessary since March 1 must be critical to maintaining a safe living environment and the household must have an identified and verified COVID hardship which the applicant cannot pay. This is a narrow window for providing assistance and should not be used to replace a SHIP Emergency Repair strategy or address applicants from the waiting list. The repair has to be an imminent danger that cannot wait until the current situation (the applicant’s COVID hardship) passes. This was never intended to be a primary use of CRF funds. This strategy should be a last priority.

Environmental compliance is not required when using CRF funds, however Davis Bacon and other labor standards requirement must be complied with for repairs costing $2,000 or more.

A mold inspection/remediation report is required for emergency repairs but not rent and mortgage assistance. Local governments can use their pool of current contractors to carry out rehabilitation work. The CRF program does not require multiple bids. However, these funds must comply with your local procurement policy. Contact your City or County procurement officer to determine the local requirements for procuring services.

Though we are in hurricane season, mitigation improvements such as tree removal or shutters are not eligible improvements under emergency repair. The language in the CARES Act says that “necessary expenditures incurred due to the public health emergency with respect to Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19).” Mitigation improvements such as tree removal or shutter installation are not acceptable emergency repairs in this context.

Advertising and Outreach

All applicants already on the City/County waiting list for COVID-related assistance will be served on a first eligible, first served basis with CRF funds.

The City/County will also advertise in accordance with the FHFC subrecipient agreement and the technical bulletin dated June 28, 2020 (Exhibit 2). No less than 10 days before taking new applications the City/County will advertise on its website, and Facebook and Twitter accounts. The Notice of Funding Availability (NOFA) (Exhibit 3) will include the following information:

- a. The amount of funds projected to be received from the State for the fiscal year(s).
- b. The beginning and ending date of the application period.
- c. The name of the contact person and other pertinent information where applicants may apply for assistance (phone number, address, email, and hours of operation).

Copies of all NOFAs and outreach shall be retained for audit purposes.

Application Process

Any resident requesting assistance is added to the applicant waiting list, including the applicant’s name, mailing address, phone number, e-mail address, COVID related hardship, and type of assistance requested.

Each applicant requesting assistance is provided an application package. The application package will be provided by e-mail, picked up by the applicant, and/or mailed to the applicant.

A completed application package must contain the following:

1. The application (Exhibit 4)
2. The duplication of benefit agreement (Exhibit 5) signed by the head and co-head of household
3. A self-certification of income and hardship form (Exhibit 6) for each adult household member with income and/or a hardship
4. The resident income certification (Exhibit 8)
5. A lease or mortgage statement in the applicant’s name
6. A statement of the amount of past due rent, if applicable
7. Payment-related documents: Contact information for the landlord, mortgage company and /or utility company. This might include a lease, monthly mortgage statement, or utility bill with the property address if utilities are paid under the program. Before paying a past due utility bill, get the original bill to show it was after March 1.
8. Identification for each household member

This manual is specific to the FHFC-CRF funding administered by SHIP jurisdictions. The manual cannot be relied upon for other CRF-funded programs.

9. For emergency repair cases: Documentation of homeownership; one of the following: Warranty Deed, Homestead Exemption, Quit-Claim Deed, Tax Records, Long-term Lease, or Life Estate.

Applications can be submitted electronically or mailed. As applications are received, they will be date stamped and assigned a case number. A file will be created for each applicant. The file can be electronic or a hard copy.

Household Eligibility

Once the City/County receives the complete application package, the file will be reviewed for eligibility. Client eligibility will be determined based on the following requirements:

1. The household had/has a hardship related to COVID-19 after March 1, 2020. The hardship may involve an income reduction related to COVID, such as unemployment or underemployment.
2. The total annual household income does not exceed 120% of the area median income, in accordance with 24 CFR part 5.
3. The assistance requested is for an eligible use.

File documentation

Each file shall contain:

1. The application (Exhibit 4).
2. The duplication of benefit agreement (Exhibit 5).
3. A self-certification of income and hardship form (Exhibit 6)
4. A file checklist (Exhibit 7)
5. The resident income certification (Exhibit 8).
6. Award/denial letter (Exhibit 9).
7. Monthly eligibility verification, if applicable (Exhibit 10).
8. A lease or mortgage statement in the applicant's name.
9. An ID for each household member.
10. A utility bill with the property address if utilities are paid under the program.
11. Documentation of expenses for emergency repairs, if applicable.
12. Payment related documents

Payment Procedures

Payments shall be paid directly to the mortgage company, landlord, management agent, utility company, or other third party. Each landlord or mortgage company shall provide a W-9 to receive payment.

For a rent payment, staff will calculate the current delinquent rents and fees from March 1, 2020 to the current rent due. The payment shall be made directly to the landlord and a copy of the payment provided the tenant.

For mortgage payments, staff will calculate the current delinquent mortgage payment and fees from March 1, 2020 to the current payment due. If the applicant is 30 days or more delinquent, in default, or in foreclosure, the assistance payment can include the escrowed portion of property taxes. If the owner of the property is not delinquent, in default or in foreclosure, the property tax included in the monthly mortgage payment will be subtracted from the assistance amount. No property taxes can be paid for monthly assistance provided after the delinquent payment has been brought current. The payment shall be made directly to the mortgage lender and a copy of the payment provided the homeowner.

For utility payments, staff will calculate the delinquent utility payment and fees from March 1, 2020 to the current date. The payment shall be made directly to the utility company and a copy of the payment provided the tenant or homeowner.

Each month, staff may contact the applicant to determine if the applicant still income-eligible and continues to need assistance due to COVID. If the applicant remains eligible and there are funds available, a payment may be made for the current month's rent or mortgage, and/or any additional delinquent utilities that have accrued. The monthly eligibility verification form is provided as an exhibit to this manual.

Copies of all payments must be retained in the applicant's file.

Using CRF to Reimburse SHIP for Eligible Expenses

The City/County may use FHFC-CRF to reimburse SHIP funds spent assisting applicants with COVID hardships. CRF may reimburse for activities that are eligible under the FHFC-CRF guidelines, so long as the activity had not been previously budgeted for those SHIP funds. It is acceptable, for instance, if you originally budgeted funds for purchase assistance and later redirected them to assist with rental assistance due to COVID-19. The activity in question would have to have occurred from March 1, 2020 forward. Similarly, the City/County may reimburse SHIP with FHFC-CRF funds if unencumbered SHIP funds were directed to COVID assistance.

Reporting

The City/County will track expenditures for each assisted household. CRF reports must be submitted to FHFC starting with the first due on September 25th. Each report must include the status and progress of the expenditure of funds under the Subrecipient Agreement, in addition to any other information requested by Florida Housing. Report due dates are:

- September 25: Monthly Report
- October 15: Quarterly Report
- October 25: Monthly Report
- November 25: Monthly Report
- December 25: Monthly Report
- February 15, 2021: Final Report

All funds must be accounted for on the CRF DATA spreadsheet as provided by Florida Housing.

Record Retention

Records must be retained at least 5 years after closeout of the grant or when the grant is audited, whichever is later. Records can be retained in electronic form or hard copies. Files involved in any litigation, claim or audit before the end of the five-year period or that extend beyond the expiration of the five-year period, must be retained until all litigation, claims, or audit findings involving the files have been resolved.

Chapter 3: Advertising Requirements

Local governments that receive FHFC-CRF funds are required to advertise and perform outreach before accepting applications. The minimum requirements for advertising are included in the Subrecipient Agreement between the local government and Florida Housing Finance Corporation, with additional guidance provided in the Technical Guidance issued by FHFC on July 28, 2020.

Item #3 of the subrecipient agreement (Page 3, C. 6.) requires the following:

CRF funding availability shall be advertised by Subrecipient in both a newspaper of general circulation (ADDED NOTE: see clarification in next paragraph) and, where available, periodicals serving racially, ethnically and income diverse neighborhoods, at least 10 days before the beginning of the application period. This 10-day period does not prevent assistance to applicants that have already applied and been determined eligible prior to the application period. At a minimum, the advertisement shall contain:

- a. The amount of funds projected to be received from the state for the fiscal year(s).
- b. The beginning and ending date of the application period;
- c. The name of the contact person and other pertinent information where applicants may apply for assistance (phone number, address, email, and hours of operation).

FHFC provided additional guidance on Item # 3 (see Exhibit 2 Technical Guidance). It states that, with the need to deploy CRF funds as soon as possible, the advertising requirement may also be met through the use of the local government's website and social media accounts that are available to the public. Local governments that are already using SHIP funds for similar uses do not need to wait the 10-day period before taking applications. When reaching out to new applicants, it is important to provide equal access and equal opportunity to all of those that are least likely to apply for assistance.

Timing in the expenditure of CRF funds is crucial. Local governments who participate in the CRF program can begin advertising and outreach prior to receiving the written agreement to reduce any time delays in processing and screening applicants prior to providing assistance. If the local government has established a waiting list of individuals that have contacted the local government with an interest in receiving CRF assistance, the local government can use this list as the first clients to be served under the program. Anyone who applies after the advertisement can be added to the waiting list.

The Florida Housing Coalition has provided a sample NOFA (Exhibit 3) in compliance with the requirements outlined in the agreement to assist local government in moving quickly to provide assistance. This sample can be used in any form of advertising including newspaper, social media, or other outlets. Local governments and their sub-grantees should ensure that they retain proof of advertising and outreach in their records for monitoring purposes.

This manual is specific to the FHFC-CRF funding administered by SHIP jurisdictions. The manual cannot be relied upon for other CRF-funded programs.

Chapter 4: Eligible Uses of FHFC-CRF Funds

Overview

The overarching requirement of all CRF funding is that it must be spent on activities necessary due to the COVID-19 emergency. The eligible uses of FHFC-CRF funding are listed in the Subrecipient Agreement. However, local governments are not required to fund all the activities listed in the Subrecipient Agreement. They may use any combination of the eligible activities allowed. Any activities not expressly listed in the Subrecipient Agreement must be presented in writing to FHFC with sufficient justification and approved in writing by FHFC.

Rental and Mortgage Assistance

Due to the financial impact of COVID-19 on many Florida residents, activities such as rental assistance, mortgage assistance, and related housing counseling will likely be the most common uses of FHFC-CRF funding. Local governments may not pay future mortgage or rent payments in advance in a lump sum. However, they may provide ongoing rent/mortgage assistance when those payments come due, subject to recertification of eligibility at that point.

FHFC issued technical guidance (see Exhibit 2) that notes that households in older mobile homes may be assisted with rent and mortgage payments, but not repairs. As a best practice, the local government will confirm that an older mobile home is not substandard. You may want to perform an inspection, review an aerial photograph on the public records, or have the landlord or tenant certify that the property is habitable.

Utility Assistance

Many local governments also provide utility assistance. Utilities can include water, sewer, trash, electricity, gas, internet, phone, cable, or other similar services. A local government cannot use CRF funds to replace lost revenue directly, but a local government can provide assistance to an eligible applicant to pay utility bills to continue essential utility services, even if the utility is government-owned. Since a main goal of the program is to prevent eviction and keep Floridians stably housed, if only paying utilities will not protect the tenant or property owner from eviction, then assistance should not be provided. Otherwise, utility assistance can be granted if the applicant has a genuine COVID-related hardship that prevents them from paying their utilities.

Although CRF can pay a current rent or mortgage bill even if an eligible applicant is not past due, the same is not true for utility assistance. An applicant must be at least 30 days past due on a utility bill for that bill to be an eligible payment through CRF. Furthermore, CRF cannot assist unless the lack of payment will result in the discontinuation of service. Some utility companies will not shut off services during this COVID period but will disconnect after COVID if the balance is not paid. This is considered a risk of discontinued service, so the CRF program may pay for past due utility bills in such a case.

If an applicant's utility balance is more than 30 days overdue, the local government can pay for past due bills no earlier than March 1, 2020, as well as the current due bill. In subsequent months, CRF could again pay the same applicant's utilities if they are still eligible and the utility bill is again at least 30 days past due.

In some cases, utility companies are shutting off services in even less than 30 days delinquency. If you are able to fully and clearly document a case to show that services will be discontinued before 30 days late, then you can spend CRF. This is allowable because it keeps with the goal of preventing loss of housing or housing-related services.

This manual is specific to the FHFC-CRF funding administered by SHIP jurisdictions. The manual cannot be relied upon for other CRF-funded programs.

There are currently numerous sources of utility assistance in Florida, even beyond CRF. As one example, the LIHEAP program can pay for utilities (see https://www.floridahousing.org/docs/default-source/aboutflorida/coronavirus-relief-funds/electric-utility-payment-assistance.pdf?sfvrsn=adcffb7b_2).

Assisting Homeless Households

Households experiencing homelessness are categorically eligible for assistance, even without showing a loss of income or other financial or health impact of COVID.

For households experiencing homelessness, a local government may provide move-in assistance (i.e., “housing reentry”) to place the household in a rental unit and then pay rent. Housing reentry can include a security deposit, utility deposit, and first month’s rent; however, the last month’s rent cannot be paid in advance with CRF funds. Those households may also receive monthly rent assistance upon confirming monthly that the household is still income-eligible and in need of assistance.

If continuing assistance is expected to be provided by another program (e.g., Rapid ReHousing through Emergency Solutions Grant [ESG]), the household should be simultaneously enrolled in both programs (e.g., CRF and ESG). Failure to enroll the household in the non-CRF program before they move into their rental unit will endanger their eligibility for ESG and similar homeless programs.

Emergency Repairs

Emergency repair assistance for households who have experienced a hardship that prevents them from paying for these repairs is also an eligible use, but only if that emergency repair is itself related to COVID. If the emergency repair is not related to COVID, that assistance cannot be provided (e.g., tree removal is not an eligible use even for a household that has lost income due to COVID).

New Construction

Beyond that, activities such as new construction may be eligible but would have to be related specifically to a need caused by the COVID-19 emergency and would need to be proposed to and approved by FHFC prior to implementation. CRF funds must be expended by December 30, 2020, and the FHFC Subrecipient Agreement defines “expended” to mean that “the affordable housing activity is complete.” Therefore, be advised that to use CRF funds for new construction, the local government must present that activity in writing to FHFC for approval.

Local Policy Decisions

The local government is not required to serve households with incomes up to 120% AMI, although that is the maximum income level established by FHFC. Further, set-asides for specific populations or uses are not required by FHFC. As a matter of local policy, however, the local government may decide to serve only lower income households (e.g., up to 80% AMI) and establish its own set-asides as a local policy decision (e.g., 35% for housing reentry and rent assistance for homeless households).

The local government does not have to update the Local Housing Assistance Plan (LHAP) since FHFC-CRF dollars are not SHIP funds. FHFC-CRF is governed by the Subrecipient Agreement which lists eligible activities and the local government does not need to submit any plans to FHFC before expending the funds. FHFC approval must be sought, however, to use FHFC-CRF funds for any activity not named as an eligible use in the Subrecipient Agreement.

This manual is specific to the FHFC-CRF funding administered by SHIP jurisdictions. The manual cannot be relied upon for other CRF-funded programs.

This manual is specific to the FHFC-CRF funding administered by SHIP jurisdictions. The manual cannot be relied upon for other CRF-funded programs.

Chapter 5: Administration of Funds

Execution of the Subrecipient Agreement

Local governments have received their Subrecipient Agreement (Exhibit 1) and are urged to expedite the execution of the agreement. To ease administration of the second round of CRF funding, the local government should have their governing body accept/pre-approve any subsequent amounts that will be received.

The local government and its governing body will decide who can execute the agreement on behalf of the City/County. FHFC does not specify who is required to execute the agreement and leaves this decision to the local government.

FHFC encourages local governments to move quickly in executing and returning the agreement; however, there is no deadline for returning the agreement. Local governments cannot receive CRF funds until the agreement is executed. Further, there will be no extension to the December 30, 2020 expenditure deadline. If a local government experiences delays in executing the agreement, they risk not being provided additional funds in the 2nd allocation to be announced by mid-October.

There are different entities providing CARES Act CRF funding; in addition to FHFC-CRF funding, some Florida local governments have received direct allocations of CRF from the U.S. Treasury Department and/or CRF funding from the State of Florida Department of Emergency Management. Each funder provides a written agreement and guidance for the use of funds. Local governments must follow the guidance issued by the relevant funder and comply with the terms outlined in each agreement.

Funding Number

The CFDA number for this funding is 21.019 (see page 4 of the Subrecipient Agreement). There are additional federal requirements tied to the CRF funds which are listed in section L of the Subrecipient Agreement. Local governments are not required to report on contracts with contractors on FSRS for compliance with the Transparency Act. Under the Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act (FFATA), only prime grant awardees, in this case FHFC, are responsible for reporting on sub-awards through FSRS. Local governments must report all applicable information to FHFC but are not required to submit through FSRS.

Administrative Funds

CRF allows local governments to use 10% of its FHFC-CRF program expenditures (not allocation) for administrative purposes. For example, if the local government receives an allocation of $1 million and spends only $500,000 on assistance, the administrative cap is $50,000, not $100,000.

Beyond the administrative budget, program funds of no more than 5% may pay reasonable project delivery cost for services provided by third party individuals or organizations (e.g., sub-grantees) that perform a required task that local government staff cannot perform in the restricted timeframe without assistance. In all cases, a project delivery cost is a necessary activity to provide the service to a program participant. It is also something that cannot be done by the local staff, either due to skill (inspections, for example) or due to workload and timelines (e.g., time involved in application intake, eligibility determination). When using a sub-grantee, the local government may also share a portion of the administration fee with the sub-grantee; for example, a sub-grantee may receive 5% project delivery cost plus 3% administrative fee, while the local government retains 7% administrative fee.

This manual is specific to the FHFC-CRF funding administered by SHIP jurisdictions. The manual cannot be relied upon for other CRF-funded programs.

Project delivery costs may comprise many or all of the activities for which you pay a service delivery fee. The local government that executed the agreement with FHFC is ultimately responsible for the actions of a sub-grantee. The most common CRF project delivery costs when contracting out work include (1) prescreening, intake, and collecting CRF file documents; (2) determining eligibility based on income and hardship; (3) arranging for payments (e.g., checks for rent/mortgage); and (4) monthly and quarterly reporting.

Local Policies

CRF policies are guided by the Subrecipient Agreement and any technical guidance issued by FHFC. However, a local government can establish more restrictive policies than those set by FHFC. FHFC has designed this program to provide maximum flexibility to local governments in deploying these funds quickly and effectively. For example, a local government could limit assistance to those below 80% AMI. Furthermore, a local government could require additional documentation of unemployment with a termination notice from employer, proof of filing for unemployment benefits, or other method. These are local policy decisions since they are not required under the Subrecipient Agreement. Local government can also establish property value limits for example, under an emergency repair program, or set-asides for special populations (e.g., homeless households, seniors).

Local governments are always encouraged to develop policies for the administration of any program. Policies provide consistency among staff and help ensure fairness and clarity. The local government can create a plan for using CRF funds, but this plan does not have to be submitted or approved by FHFC. Although local governments do not need to submit a plan, local governments must provide monthly and quarterly reports, with the first monthly report due September 25, 2020. In addition, the final report is due February 15, 2021.

Local governments have the flexibility to establish policies and procedures related to the day to day operation of their programs. Local governments are encouraged to provide assistance as a grant, rather than a loan for instance, but this is also local decision. Further, FHFC does not cap the maximum award provided to each household, but local government policy may reflect an award maximum.

Since CRF funds are provided by the U.S. Treasury Department, there are some requirements that apply to CRF funds that do not apply to SHIP, and vice versa. For example, under the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (PRWORA), undocumented immigrants can receive “short-term, non-cash, in-kind emergency disaster relief” regardless of legal status. Because CRF funds are short-term, provide a non-cash housing benefit to applicants (the applicants are not receiving the funds directly), are in-kind (not cash), and for emergency disaster relief, CRF funds can be used to assist persons without consideration of their citizenship status.

One specific requirement related to client eligibility is to ensure that the household income does not exceed 120% of the median as established and published by FHFC. With regards to 120% income limit, local governments will determine household income eligibility based on current circumstances in accordance with 24 CFR part 5. If a household’s income was above 120% AMI prior to the COVID-19 pandemic but they lost half their income because of the crisis, they would be income-eligible for assistance. Since CRF funding is separate from SHIP funding, the LHAP or policies and procedures related to the SHIP program do not apply to CRF funds.

The FHFC Subrecipient Agreement requires that records be retained in electronic form. A local government can also keep files in paper form.

This manual is specific to the FHFC-CRF funding administered by SHIP jurisdictions. The manual cannot be relied upon for other CRF-funded programs.

Duplication of Benefits

When administering CRF funds, the local government should ensure that the recipient of benefits has not received a duplication of assistance for the same time period and purpose (e.g., two funding sources should not both pay September rent). To ensure that the applicant does not receive duplication of benefits from other funding sources providing similar services the local government can use the sample duplication of benefits form. As a general standard, disaster assistance recipients sign such a form since there are often several possible sources of aid during disaster recovery. This notifies a recipient to confirm they will avoid scenarios where different resources pay for the same month of rent or other assistance. The duplication of benefits agreement can be signed by only the head and co-head of household.

There may be cases where an applicant has received assistance but the assistance the local government will provide does not duplicate the assistance already provided. If the applicant has recently received SHIP COVID, CARES Act, or other types of assistance, and they continue to have a COVID-related hardship, CRF could help them with their next months of rent or mortgage payments as long as there is no duplication of the benefits for that time period and purpose. Similarly, a household experiencing homelessness may receive CRF funding for move-in costs and then ongoing rental assistance through ESG.

The Duplication of Benefits form includes a release date. Add March 22, 2024 as this date. The reason is that the CRF Subrecipient Agreement ends March 21, 2021. This agreement indicates that the funds are subject to compliance monitoring during the period of performance in which funds are expended and up to three years following the closeout of all funds.

Self-Certification

The income and hardship self-certification form must be completed by all adult household members 18 years of age or older. The self-certification form can be notarized or witnessed by two witnesses. The flexibility for witnesses rather than notarization will assist some clients who are struggling to get the self-certification notarized due to COVID-19. The housing staff person(s) may serve as witness(es).

Fraud is a risk with any program. As part of the application process, applicants are required to sign a statement attesting to the fact that falsifying information for the purpose of receiving assistance is a first-degree misdemeanor. Local governments should protect against fraud by exercising due diligence. This means that the local government ensures that the applicant attests under penalty of law that their information is correct, the local government reviews the information thoroughly to assess eligibility, and the local government affirms hardship and income eligibility. If an applicant is found to have lied on the application, the local government can exercise due diligence by bringing legal action against the applicant to recoup funds.

Hardship

When determining when a local government can provide assistance, the local government must establish that the applicant is directly impacted by COVID. Local governments may establish a local policy allowing for CRF assistance to continue for a COVID-impacted household for a month or two even after the household's income has rebounded, as long as that household is still income-eligible and continues to have a hardship that affects ongoing housing security.

All households experiencing homelessness have a COVID hardship by virtue of their being homeless. Therefore, the required hardship documentation for these households is documentation of homeless status.

This manual is specific to the FHFC-CRF funding administered by SHIP jurisdictions. The manual cannot be relied upon for other CRF-funded programs.

No Payments in Advance

Local governments can pay for past-due amounts or current amounts of rent, mortgage, or utilities. However, local governments cannot pay future months of rent and mortgage payments in a lump sum. The CRF guidance regarding income eligibility is that rent and mortgage aid “should be structured in a manner to ensure as much as possible, within the realm of what is administratively feasible, that such assistance is necessary.” The local government, therefore, will need to determine on a month by month basis if the applicant needs additional assistance before paying that month’s rent, mortgage, or utility payment. Applicants that receive assistance do not have to be delinquent on payments to justify providing mortgage or rental assistance.

The local government can assist households on an ongoing basis in some cases. For example, a local government can help applicants catch up on past due rent and mortgage payments, and if there are funds remaining, the local government can later provide additional assistance for those same applicants. The household receiving CRF assistance initially signed an income certification form that details eligibility.

To determine whether a household that has already received assistance should receive additional assistance, the local government must contact the household regarding their income and continued need. If the household indicates their income has changed, an updated self-certification form must be obtained. If the household remains income-eligible, additional assistance can be provided. However, if the household indicates that their income has not changed, the self-certification form that household signed previously remains in effect, and no additional documentation is needed to provide assistance.

Subsidized Rentals: Avoid Duplication of Benefits

There may be applications for assistance from households who receive assistance from a public housing authority (e.g., receive a housing voucher or live in public housing) or live in subsidized apartments and therefore have reduced rents. A local government is generally not prohibited from assisting those applicants if they have a COVID-related hardship. However, if an applicant lives in a FHFC-assisted development that is receiving assistance through other FHFC CRF resources, that household may not be eligible under this program.

Before assisting a household living in assisted housing, the local government must contact the management agent to confirm that they are working with the tenant to avoid evictions and keep rents affordable to households with COVID hardships. The local government cannot duplicate benefits or pay rent when there are other sources of funds available to assist those specific tenants. The link to FHFC portfolio properties that have applied for CRF funding under FHFC’s program to assist FHFC portfolio apartment owners is provided here: <https://www.floridahousing.org/about-florida-housing/florida-housing's-coronavirus-relief-fund>.

Chapter 6: Documentation of Eligibility

Overview

The FHFC-CRF Subrecipient Agreement (Section J.3.b.) addresses the documentation that each local government must retain.

Subrecipient must maintain records on all awards to Eligible Persons or Sponsors. These records must include, but are not limited to:

- i. Proof of income compliance
- ii. Proof of homeownership
- iii. Proof of use of FEMA proceeds
- iv. Documentation of all required inspections including mold remediation and wood destroying organisms
- v. Destroying organisms
- vi. Documentation of any required remediation
- vii. Certificate of Occupancy
- viii. Placed in Service documentation
- ix. Proof of contract or eligibility
- x. Documentation of payments made on the award
- xi. Documentation of the value/sales price of the unit, as applicable.

Below are the specific documents needed to comply with the CRF Subrecipient Agreement. Several are included as exhibits in this CRF Manual.

- Income compliance and proof of eligibility: Collect the self-certification of income (Exhibit 6) and the CRF application (Exhibit 4), which includes a section where the applicant lists sources of income and describes their COVID-related hardship. Complete an income certification form (Exhibit 8) based on information from these documents.
- Document homeownership: Collect one of these items: Warranty Deed, Homestead Exemption, Quit-Claim Deed, Tax Records, Long-term Lease, or Life Estate
- Household: Identification documents for all household members (e.g., driver license, birth certificate, utility bill, voter's registration, school record of permanent residence). One form of ID for each household member is sufficient.
- Use of FEMA proceeds: Although the Subrecipient Agreement mentions FEMA funds, there are no such funds involved with this COVID assistance. Instead, this topic relates to other sources that could also aid an applicant. Each applicant must sign the duplication of benefits form (Exhibit 5) created specifically for this CRF assistance.
- Inspections: When the assistance includes emergency repairs, the file should include relevant documents like a mold remediation or wood destroying organisms report as well as a certificate of occupancy as necessary.
- Payments: Contact information for the landlord, mortgage company and/or utility company, which might include a lease, monthly mortgage statement, or utility bill. Copies of checks for CRF assistance provided or similar documentation in the case of electronic funds transfers.

This manual is specific to the FHFC-CRF funding administered by SHIP jurisdictions. The manual cannot be relied upon for other CRF-funded programs.

Document Income Eligibility

Under the COVID-19 emergency, each local government may use expedited methods of processing applications and reviewing and qualifying income. While the SHIP program requires the collection of third-party verification of income and assets, this is not required for CRF assistance. Instead, the applicant provides information on income and assets in three CRF documents:

1. The CRF Self-Certification of Income and Assets, which must be signed by each adult household member with income or a hardship;
2. The CRF Application, which contains a section about income and assets;
3. The CRF Income Certification Form (RIC), which may be signed by CRF staff based on information on the self-certification and application. With this form, the local government ensures that the household income does not exceed 120% AMI, in accordance with 24 CFR Part 5. Pursuant to HUD guidelines, the federal unemployment benefits under the CARES Act are classified as stimulus funds, not unemployment benefits. These funds are excluded from the income calculation.

Document COVID-Related Hardship

Applicants that have been unemployed, furloughed, or otherwise have experienced a reduction in income due to the economic effects of COVID-19, and who meet other eligibility requirements (e.g., household income not exceeding 120% AMI) are eligible. Persons who were unemployed prior to the COVID-19 pandemic can also be eligible if they attest to the fact that COVID-19 has negatively affected their job prospects. Persons experiencing homelessness are categorically eligible because housing is a way to reduce the spread of COVID-19. No proof of loss of income is required to justify spending CRF funds on homeless-related assistance.

Statements from applicants with hardships indicating that they were impacted by COVID are sufficient documentation of hardships. The applicant signs the self-certification of hardship and the local government is not required to collect any additional hardship-related documents. The CRF application contains a section where the applicant provides pre-COVID income, income reductions, and details of their hardship. The self-certification form that is completed by each household member provides and requires an explanation of the COVID hardship. The local government staff should review the explanation of the hardship to confirm the applicant is eligible. For all forms, a digital signature is acceptable.

Document Monthly Verification of Eligibility

Some assisted households may continue to experience hardships and need assistance in subsequent months. These households may receive additional assistance so long as they are still eligible. The income certification form details that an applicant is eligible when first assisted; this document is considered valid and up to date for one year. As long as the household's income has not changed, no additional documentation is required from an applicant. However, if the household's income has changed, additional documentation is required.

The local government should contact assisted recipients each month to check if their income has increased and if they are still in need of another month of assistance. If their household income has changed, the applicant must complete an updated income certification form.

The Monthly Eligibility Verification form (Exhibit 10) may be used to document local government staff's monthly communication with each applicant who needs additional assistance. This form tracks the assistance a household has received to help ensure that assistance does not exceed the maximum award amount, if a maximum award has been set by the local government.

Chapter 7: Using CRF to Reimburse Eligible Expenses

Overview

Local governments can use CRF to reimburse SHIP funds spent assisting applicants with COVID hardships. CRF may reimburse for activities that are eligible under the CRF and CARES Act guidelines, so long as the activity had not been previously budgeted for those SHIP funds. It is acceptable, for instance, if SHIP funds were originally budgeted for purchase assistance and later redirected to provide rental assistance due to COVID-19. Similarly, local governments may use CRF to reimburse SHIP if unencumbered SHIP funds were directed to COVID-related assistance for a CRF eligible use. However, CRF cannot be used to reimburse SHIP for any activities that occurred before March 1, 2020.

Using CRF to reimburse SHIP is a priority use of funds, so this reimbursement should be paid from the first CRF payment received. CRF funds may only be used to reimburse SHIP activities for (1) CRF eligible activities, (2) that occurred on or after March 1, 2020, and (3) when applicant files contain the appropriate documentation:

1. Documentation of a COVID hardship. This may include proof of filing for unemployment, receiving unemployment benefits, or a letter from an employer.
2. Income verification and certification forms that show the recipient's income is at or below 120% AMI.

There is no specific form required to document CRF reimbursement of SHIP. SHIP funds that are already expended can be reimbursed, while funds that are encumbered with SHIP can be replaced by CRF funds for eligible activities. All CRF activities, including reimbursement of SHIP and assistance for households, must be completed by December 30, 2020.

Examples of Reimbursable Activities

Common SHIP activities that may be reimbursed with CRF are rent, utility, and mortgage assistance. In addition, reimbursement may be made for administrative expenses associated with this assistance, so long as the amount does not exceed 10 percent of the assistance being reimbursed.

Rehabilitation Projects are Not Eligible for CRF Reimbursement

SHIP rehabilitation work is regularly budgeted and planned for as housing assistance, so CRF funds cannot reimburse those costs.

Reporting CRF Reimbursements on SHIP and CRF Reports

CRF reimbursements are tracked as SHIP program income received in the 2020/2021 state fiscal year, so these funds must be encumbered by June 30, 2022 and expended by June 30, 2023. Reimbursements are reported on both SHIP and CRF Reports:

SHIP Report: The initial assistance provided is recorded on the SHIP annual report. If, for instance, you use CRF to reimburse 17/18 SHIP funds, this activity will be included on the closeout 17/18 report as expended for the appropriate activity. This records the first time the SHIP funds were expended. Those funds will then be reimbursed and must be expended again. The second time the funds are expended will be reported in the 20/21 closeout report. In this way, the CRF reimbursement of SHIP is like any program income that comes from repayment of assistance.

This manual is specific to the FHFC-CRF funding administered by SHIP jurisdictions. The manual cannot be relied upon for other CRF-funded programs.

CRF Report: The reimbursement of SHIP is also reported on the CRF Report. This activity is added on the CRF DATA spreadsheet by including one row of expenses for each household that had been assisted with SHIP. For example, if Ms. Gonzales received $3,000 of SHIP COVID rent assistance in April 2020, and then CRF reimbursed SHIP for that payment in August, that would be reported as a line item on the CRF DATA spreadsheet.

Processing Final SHIP Assistance to be Reimbursed by CRF

Some cities and counties are continuing to provide SHIP COVID-related assistance in the interim before the CRF Subrecipient Agreement is signed, CRF dollars are received, and the application process begins. In such cases, staff know that these cases will be reimbursed by CRF in the near future. Local governments may use the streamlined CRF application process for such SHIP cases. The applicant is not required to fill out a new CRF application, but the applicant should complete and sign the CRF self-certification of income and hardship form. The applicant should also be interviewed to provide details about the COVID hardship and the approximate loss of income. If third party documentation of income and hardship is not received quickly, it is appropriate to follow the CRF policy of establishing eligibility solely based on applicant provided information and the self-certification.

CRF Reimbursement Beyond SHIP

Local government may be able to reimburse other types of funding that was used for COVID-related activities as long as those other funding sources do not prevent reimbursement and the expenditures being reimbursed are for CRF eligible activities for eligible applicants. Before making such reimbursements, local governments should email Robert Dearduff the details of the situation for consideration as CRF reimbursement.

The Difference between Reimbursement and Replacement

If SHIP funds have already been expended for a CRF eligible use, these may be reimbursed by CRF. This is different than SHIP funds that were initially encumbered for COVID assistance and then were unencumbered when they were replaced by CRF funds for eligible activities. In this case, it is not a reimbursement, it is a reassignment of funding sources. The key difference is that funds which are reimbursed become SHIP program income in FY 2020-2021, while SHIP funds that are freed up due to CRF funds replacing them remain in the fiscal year in which they were allocated.

This manual is specific to the FHFC-CRF funding administered by SHIP jurisdictions. The manual cannot be relied upon for other CRF-funded programs.

Chapter 8: Rental Assistance, Housing Re-Entry, and Eviction Prevention

Income eligible renters with a COVID hardship may receive CRF assistance with their rental payments. Under section (C)(4) of the FHFC Subrecipient Agreement, CRF funds can be used for rental assistance payments including back rent, deposits, late fees, and utility payments. CRF funds can also be used for housing re-entry assistance in the form of security deposits, utility deposits, and temporary storage of household furnishings. Any activities not expressly stated in the Subrecipient Agreement must be presented in writing to FHFC and approved in writing prior to implementation.

Overview

As with all FHFC-CRF funds, local governments cannot serve households who exceed 120% of Area Median Income (AMI). There are no specific set-aside requirements. A local government can choose to serve only lower income households or develop its own set-asides, but it is not required. For example, as a local policy, a local government could decide to serve only up to 80% AMI and set aside 20% of the funds for persons with special needs, but that is not required by the Subrecipient Agreement.

Rental assistance can only be provided to applicants who live in “eligible housing” units as defined by the Subrecipient Agreement. The only clarification to this definition is that local governments can provide rental assistance to applicants who live in mobile homes built prior to June 1994 but cannot provide any assistance for repairs to households in those units. An inspection is not required prior to granting rental assistance for households in pre-1994 mobile homes but as a best practice, the local government may put processes in place to confirm that an older mobile home is not substandard.

September 2020 CDC Eviction Moratorium

On September 1, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) issued a temporary national moratorium on most evictions for nonpayment of rent that took effect on September 4. The CDC issued this order as a measure to prevent the spread of COVID-19. This order prevents evictions for nonpayment of rent for eligible tenants who invoke the CDC’s order through a Declaration form through December 31, 2020. Tenants can still be evicted for lease violations not related to nonpayment of rent.

Local government staff and housing advocates should be aware of this eviction moratorium for a variety of reasons, arguable the most important being that the CDC eviction moratorium is not automatic. First, there is a legal question as to if the CDC order applies to Florida while Florida has its own statewide eviction moratorium. The CDC order provides that it “does not apply in any State . . . with a moratorium on residential evictions that provides the same or greater level of public-health protection than the requirements listed in [the] Order.” Therefore, until a court decides on which moratorium supersedes, housing professionals should be aware of the requirements a tenant must meet to evoke both the state and CDC moratorium. Regardless, this new CDC order means that even if the Governor does not extend the statewide eviction moratorium past October, Florida renters will be protected by the CDC order until at least December 31.

Second, the CDC moratorium is literally not automatic. To be protected by the order, each adult listed on the lease must complete and provide a Declaration to their landlord that attests to specific requirements of the order under penalty of perjury. If a tenant(s) does not provide the Declaration to their landlord, the CDC eviction moratorium will not protect them from eviction. Housing professionals should educate tenants on this facet and provide tenants the proper Declaration. Otherwise, many tenants may not be aware of their rights and face eviction.

To be protected by the CDC order, the tenant(s) must declare that:

- 1) the individual has used best efforts to obtain all available government assistance for rent or housing;
- 2) the individual either (i) expects to earn no more than $99,000 in annual income for Calendar Year 2020 (or no more than $198,000 if filing a joint tax return), (ii) was not required to report any income in 2019 to the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, or (iii) received an Economic Impact Payment (stimulus check) pursuant to Section 2201 of the CARES Act;
- 3) the individual is unable to pay the full rent or make a full housing payment due to substantial loss of household income, loss of compensable hours of work or wages, a lay-off, or extraordinary out-of-pocket medical expenses;
- 4) the individual is using best efforts to make timely partial payments that are as close to the full payment as the individual's circumstances may permit, taking into account other nondiscretionary expenses; and
- 5) eviction would likely render the individual homeless—or force the individual to move into and live in close quarters in a new congregate or shared living setting—because the individual has no other available housing options.

The CDC has provided a sample Declaration form of these items. Please contact us if you have additional questions on the CDC eviction moratorium.

Administering Assistance

Assistance can be provided for up to 10 months from March 1, 2020 through December 30, 2020. However, local governments cannot pay for future rent payments in a lump sum. If a local government awards assistance to an applicant on a monthly basis through December, it must certify each month that continued assistance is necessary to meet a continued hardship. For example, a local government could award an applicant $4,000 through December but would need to certify each month that the hardship still exists and that the household is income-eligible before paying the rent in monthly installments. Back rent, late fees, and other additional fees are eligible expenses.

Rent limits and other affordability tests are not required to grant rental assistance to an applicant – the applicant simply must be income-eligible, have a documented COVID-related hardship, and meet other requirements as applicable. While there is not a requirement to follow standard rent limits, a local government could decide to take affordability into account when offering or prioritizing assistance. Similarly, there is not a maximum for how much can be spent on monthly rent payments nor is there a maximum award amount. These are local decisions to be made.

It is recommended that assistance be paid directly to the housing provider. Both the CARES Act and Treasury Guidelines are silent as to whether a lease is required. Therefore, the local government would need information necessary to determine that a tenancy exists, the assistance amount, and to whom to pay assistance. Assistance can be provided to an applicant that rents one room in a unit as long as the local government can determine that a valid tenancy exists. In regard to assistance applicants living in motels, it is recommended that local governments use CRF funds to assist those persons to move into a rental unit by paying move-in costs and providing rent payments on a monthly basis through December 30, 2020, assuming the household meets other eligibility requirements.

Using a Sub-Grantee to Administer Assistance

Local governments can contract with a sub-grantee to administer rental assistance. A sample sub-grantee agreement is provided as an Exhibit to this Manual. Local governments can amend the sample agreement to reflect the duties and obligations of each party in the individual circumstance, but local governments should not amend provisions relating to compliance. The compliance sections in the sample agreement are lifted directly from the Subrecipient Agreement between FHFC and the local government. Compliance provisions must remain intact especially given that local governments will be ultimately responsible for the actions of the sub-grantee.

Duplication of Benefits

As always, local governments must perform due diligence to confirm that an applicant is not receiving duplicative benefits. If an applicant receives funding from more than one source for the same month's rent, there will be a duplication of benefits concern. Applicants can receive assistance from other sources as long as the assistance does not provide more assistance than is needed for a month's rent in question. For example, a local government could pay an applicant's back rent due using other CARES Act funding, and then pay for current rent using FHFC-CRF funds.

This manual is specific to the FHFC-CRF funding administered by SHIP jurisdictions. The manual cannot be relied upon for other CRF-funded programs.

Chapter 9: Mortgage Assistance and Foreclosure Prevention

Income-eligible homeowners with a COVID hardship may receive assistance with their mortgage payments. Do not make mortgage payments in advance but instead pay them when they come due. For example, if a payment is due October 1, the date on the check must be October 1 or later. It is not necessary for the homeowner to be delinquent on payments to receive assistance, nor is it necessary to require homeowners to apply for payment forbearance. However, a homeowner in forbearance may receive mortgage assistance without terminating or disrupting the forbearance period.

PAYING ESCROWED TAXES

Mortgage payments often include a small amount to pay property taxes. The lender collects this in an escrow account and pays taxes annually. In general, CRF funds may not be used to pay property taxes, since this is a form of local government revenue replacement. However, paying escrowed property taxes in a mortgage payment is a permissible CRF payment according to the US Treasury exception made in the case of assistance designed to prevent foreclosures.

You may pay escrowed taxes only if the homeowner is delinquent on the mortgage. Any delinquent mortgage is in danger of foreclosure and so this is allowable according to the US Treasury for assistance to prevent foreclosures.

The following information may be used to document that a homeowner is delinquent on mortgage payments:

- A Notice of Default if one has been provided to the homeowner, or
- The most recent mortgage statement, which will indicate that one or more mortgage payments are past due.

ASSISTING HOMEOWNERS WHO ARE NOT DELINQUENT

The local government may not use FHFC-CRF funds to pay escrowed taxes if a homeowner is not delinquent on their mortgage payments. A homeowner who is not delinquent may still have a COVID-related hardship and need mortgage assistance if they are struggling to pay bills. The homeowner could be in forbearance or could be coming off a forbearance period and need help to pay the amount due.

The local government should identify the amount of escrowed property taxes by reviewing a mortgage statement, consulting online information, or receiving the information directly from a mortgage servicer. While the local government is not required to contact the lender, this may be necessary to obtain the required information, such as delinquency status, PITI (principle, interest, taxes, insurance) amounts, and information necessary for remitting the payment.

For a homeowner not delinquent, the CRF assistance will be equal to the mortgage amount due minus escrowed taxes. The homeowners should be alerted that partial payments of this type do not eliminate the risk of foreclosure and that, if possible, they should pay the taxes themselves to fully satisfy the mortgage payments due.

A local government may pay the full mortgage payment for a household that is delinquent but then assist on a monthly basis for subsequent months. In this case, the property taxes can be paid in the initial month when the CRF funds are used to bring the household current on their mortgage, but in subsequent months the property taxes cannot be paid. In each subsequent month, the local government must verify that the applicant is still income-eligible and in need of assistance due to the impact of COVID. The Monthly Eligibility Verification form can be used to verify continued eligibility.

HOUSING COUNSELING

CRF may be used to provide eligible households with housing counseling services. A homeowner, for example, may benefit from learning what forbearance plan is available for his or her mortgage. In some cases, CRF-funded counseling may be the only CRF assistance that a homeowner receives. Their housing counselor may, for instance, inform them that their mortgage allows for these missed payments to be added to the end of the mortgage payment period. In such a case, no CRF dollars are expended on mortgage assistance, since CRF-funded counseling provided the information that another approach is available.

Housing counseling is a program cost, not a project delivery cost, and the amount of CRF spent on such counseling is not limited. As a best practice, local governments should work with a HUD-certified housing counseling agency, which may be paid a service delivery fee for providing counseling services.

Housing counseling activities are not reported on the CRF DATA spreadsheet. Instead, the required monthly, quarterly, or close-out report will include a field for these expenses to be added.

ADDITIONAL TOPICS

Can a local government provide mortgage assistance to an applicant with a local government mortgage?

Yes, as long as the applicant qualifies under program guidelines. You may pay such a mortgage in any position, including a first mortgage for an eligible applicant.

For mortgage assistance, are we able to assist a household that only has 50% homestead exemption?

This is a local policy decision. A requirement that the mortgage is on the applicant's primary residence may be enough to meet your concerns.

Can we provide mortgage assistance to a homeowner with a 'contract for deed' purchase arrangement?

Yes. A contract for deed is considered a mortgage under Florida law.

The agreement provided states that CRF funds can be used for mortgage payments and buydowns. What is meant by "buydowns"?

A mortgage buydown refers to a borrower paying a fee in exchange for a lower interest rate on their mortgage.

Is homeowner's insurance eligible if it is past due?

Yes, if included in the mortgage payment. Insurance that is escrowed as part of the mortgage payment may be paid regardless of whether the mortgage payment is past due.

Exhibit 2: CRF Technical Guidance 7/28/2020

Memorandum

TO: Local Governments participating in Coronavirus Relief Funds (CRF-2)

FROM: Robert Dearduff, Assistant Director of Special Programs

SUBJECT: Technical Guidance on Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF-2)

DATE: July 28, 2020

Item #1: Definition of Eligible Housing (Page 2, B. 3.) clarified:

“Eligible Housing” means any real and personal property located within the county or eligible municipality which is designed and intended for the primary purpose of providing decent, safe, and sanitary residential units that are designed to meet the standards of the Florida Building Code or previous building codes adopted under Chapter 553, Fla. Stat., or manufactured housing constructed after June 1994 and installed in accordance with the installation standards for mobile or manufactured homes contained in rules of the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles, for home ownership or rental for Eligible Persons as designated by Subrecipient.

Item # 1 Guidance: The Eligible Housing definition reference to the June 1994 restriction on assisting manufactured housing is not meant to restrict a local government from providing rental assistance to a resident of a manufactured or mobile home that was constructed prior to June 1994 as long as no funds are being used to repair the unit. It is also advisable in these situations that the local government review and determine that the home in question is not substandard.

Item #2: Use of Project Delivery Costs (Page 3, C. 4.) clarified:

Expenditure of Funds by Subrecipient: CRF funds shall be Expended by Subrecipient for the following:

- a. Direct CRF Administrative Expenditures and Project Delivery Costs incurred on or after March 1, 2020 in an amount no more than a cumulative 10 percent of CRF funds incurred by Subrecipient, a consultant to Subrecipient, and/or a Sub-Grantee. CRF funds shall not be used to pay for Administrative Expenditures and Project Delivery Costs incurred prior to March 1, 2020.

Item #2 Guidance: The use of Project Delivery Costs as defined in B. 9 of the CRF subrecipient agreement is separate and above the 10% cap on administrative fees. Project delivery costs can only be paid to individuals or entities that provide services directly related to assisting eligible CRF applicants that cannot or is not being performed by local government staff that whose salaries are derived from the administrative fees. The reasonable cost of project delivery costs is 5% or less. Keeping these costs as low as possible allows you to serve more applicants with program funds.

Item #3: Advertisement of funding availability (Page 3, C. 6.) clarified:

Advertisement of Availability of Funds: CRF funding availability shall be advertised by Subrecipient in both a newspaper of general circulation and, where available, periodicals serving racially, ethnically and income diverse neighborhoods, at least 10 days before the beginning of the application period. This 10-day period does not prevent assistance to applicants that have already applied and been determined eligible prior to the application period. At a minimum, the advertisement shall contain:

- a. The amount of funds projected to be received from the state for the fiscal year(s).
- b. The beginning and ending date of the application period;
- c. The name of the contact person and other pertinent information where applicants may apply for assistance (phone number, address, email, and hours of operation);

Item # 3 Guidance: With the need to make the CRF funds available as soon as possible, the advertising requirement may also be met through the use of the local government's website and social media accounts that are available to the public. Local governments that were already using SHIP funds for similar uses do not need to wait the 10-day period before taking applications.

Item #4: Allowable property tax payments (Page 5, F.) clarified:

Allowable Mortgage Payments: Mortgage payment assistance may be awarded to eligible applicants. This may include principle and interest, insurance, and homeowner association fees. Real Estate taxes paid to a government entity are not eligible.

Item # 4 Guidance: According to US Treasury guidance regarding the payment of property taxes, exceptions may be made in the case of assistance designed to prevent foreclosures.

This manual is specific to the FHFC-CRF funding administered by SHIP jurisdictions. The manual cannot be relied upon for other CRF-funded programs.

Exhibit 12: U.S. Treasury Department Clarification on CRF Policy

Q. Can a local government pay someone's back due rent using DEM CARES funding, then pay their future rent through December 30 using SHIP-CRF?

Initial A. Yes, if you do not duplicate benefits for any given month.

Clarification: Since some local governments may have had access to their (non-SHIP) CARES funds that went through DEM prior to receiving the funds that are going through SHIP. If a household was approved for and assisted using the funds through DEM under a rental assistance strategy for previous months (for example, June through August), the local government can then continue to pay rents for subsequent months as long as the tenant remains eligible (hardship still exists) using the funds going through SHIP. Since rental assistance is eligible under both funding sources, it is up to the local government to determine which fund is used. This also applies to local governments that chose to use previously allocated SHIP funds for rental assistance, but convert those eligible households over to CARES funding once they have those funds available. This does not mean that rent may be paid in advance of when it is due; funds should be disbursed for rent that is currently due and only if the household is still eligible. Our concern is that the household being assisted is eligible and that they do not receive payments for the same month from two different sources.

Q. When paying rent assistance in advance as indicated that we could in Training #1, what if the client's lease agreement expires during the period of months that we want to assist them with? Do we have to cut one check for the months covered on existing lease and then wait for new lease agreement to cut check for remaining months?

Initial A. We would not recommend paying rent that is beyond an executed lease period. This may be allowed only if you have confirmation with the applicant's landlord that a tenancy exists for the months assisted.

Clarification: We highly recommended that local governments pay rent on behalf of eligible applicants on a monthly basis (as rents are due) and confirm that the hardship still exists prior to paying each month's rent. You are able to make an award for more than one month at the time of approval (for example, they could approve a household for rent for August through December at $800/month for a total award of up to $4,000). However, those funds should not be paid without evidence of continued hardship during those months and only for rents that are currently or past due. Any funds that are expended for future rents that are subsequently determined to not be eligible due to the hardship of the tenant no longer existing or the lease expiring must be recaptured by the local government.

Q. Since we are in hurricane season is removal of dangerous trees an allowed for use of CRF funds?

Initial A. Under an CRF emergency repair program, you can include tree removal.

Clarification: Treasury has disallowed the removal of all or any part of trees.
